Air Mass Coming From Northwest Will Cool State Unless It Stops

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The mercury climbed to new records in Missouri today just ahead of an approaching cool front.

The mercury hit a new all-time mark at Fulton this afternoon with 115, a degree higher than the previous mark set last Monday.

Elsewhere in the state Mexico had 112 at noon, while Brookfield had 111. Joplin had 110 at 11 a.m. At Kansas City the mercury hit 110 and then receded. At that time, the leading edge of the advancing cool front had hit St. Joseph, where the noon-time reading was 100.

Moherly also reported a 110, the high mark there for the year. City Manager H. P. Phelan there warned that certain restrictions on water may be necessary since the city's system was unable to keep up with the demand at times.

Marshall also reported 110 at 1 p.m.

Meanwhile it was relatively cool in northern Missouri as the cool front entered the state. Maryville had 99 at 1 p.m.

The powerful cool front was moving this way from the northwest.

If this air mass doesn't veer off to the northeast—as so many have done in the last two weeks—the weather bureau thinks it will hold the high readings in the state tomorrow to between 85 and 95 in the north to the 90s in the south. Southeast Missouri, however, still will be in the 100 degree zone.

But before the predicted respite hits the state there were indications new high marks would be set before the day is over.

Mexico and Fulton had noontime readings of 112. There were indications the day's high would beat the all-time record of 116 set at Mexico in 1934. The mercury also was on the way to a new mark at Fulton, which had just set a new record of 114 last Monday.

The Kansas City reading at noon was 109 degrees, four degrees higher than at the same hour yesterday when the mercury hit 105. Columbia also had 109.

Hannibal had a late morning reading of 107 degrees. Chillicothe had a 105 with the temperature there going up a degree every 12 minutes for a period. Booneville had 104 and St. Joseph 100.

At Arathage the noon reading was up to 107, a degree higher than yesterday at this time, giving indications the day's high would top Tuesday's 112.

The predicted readings, while still high, will be a contrast to yesterday's record readings. Joplin led the heat parade with a 113.

Kansas City wasn't far behind with 112, one degree under the all-time mark. However, Kansas City did set a new mark during the night for an all-time high low of 89.

First effects of the cool front are expected to be felt along the northern border this afternoon and in the north and central portions by tonight, with lows from 5 to 70.

Some of the other high readings in the state Tuesday included: Springfield 108, St. Joseph and Columbia 107, Malden and West Plains 105, Vichy, St. Louis and Butler 103, Farmington 101 and Kirksville 100.

Bids Asked on Job Of Widening Hiway, Dresden to La Monte

Bids for the widening of Highway 50 between Dresden and La Monte are included in the bid call for July 29 by the Missouri State Highway Department.

The entire bid call, one of the largest ever made by the highway commission, is the first in the third fiscal year of the department's 10-year modernization and expansion program. All together, the projects included total about $6,150,000.

The pavement on Highway 50 from Dresden to La Monte will be widened to 24 feet for a distance of 5.6 miles. It will then be resurfaced with asphaltic concrete.

Many individual jobs are in the July 29 call and they are in 17 counties of the state for supplemental roads and 14 counties for major highways.

Nothing Clever

It's too hot today to say anything cute or clever about the weather.

Fair and a little cooler tonight and Thursday. Low tonight near 70. High Thursday in the nineties.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 80; 112 at 1 p. m., 113½ at 2 p. m.

One year ago today here high 88, low 60; two years ago 87, 69; three years ago 85, 64.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks: 55.5, fall 0.1.

Jefferson City Power Stops—So Do Fans!

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The entire power system for Jefferson City went out shortly after 12 o'clock today.

The failure shut down all air conditioning units, utilities and two hospitals.

Some state offices and the penitentiary, supplied with state power, were not affected.

At noon the temperature also registered 109.

Admits Raping Housewife In Sikeston

Entered Screen Door She Left Unlocked For Her Husband

BENTON, Mo. (AP)—A former convict released from the Missouri penitentiary last May admitted today in a signed statement that he raped a young Sikeston housewife in her home June 30.

Warren Rowlett, the 32-year-old ex-convict of East Prairie and Sikeston, was immediately charged with forcible rape and was held without bond in the Scott County jail here.

Sheriff John Dennis said Rowlett broke down after lengthy questioning and admitted he raped the attractive young woman after entering a screen door she had left unlocked for her husband, who was attending a meeting.

The woman was asleep in a bed with her five-month-old baby when her assailant entered. She was beaten on the head with an iron pipe and was choked when she screamed.

Her husband returned a few minutes after the attack and notified authorities. The woman was kept in a hospital overnight but her condition was not considered serious and she was released.

She had attended church services with friends earlier on the night she was raped.

Rowlett, who left school after finishing the ninth grade at Sikeston, entered the state penitentiary at Jefferson City in 1938 on a burglary and larceny conviction and later escaped. He was sentenced to another two-year term as a result of the escape. Rowlett had worked off and on since then as a laborer.

He was visiting at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gunter of Sikeston, at the time of the rape. His victim lives only three doors away.

She told authorities she was not acquainted with Rowlett. In his signed statement, Rowlett said he had noticed the attractive young woman several times while visiting his grandparents.

Rowlett said he had stolen a car at New Madrid on the day of the rape and returned there after the attack and slept in the parked car. He later fled into Kentucky and was picked up at the home of an uncle in Clinton, Ky., July 2.

Thus Rowlett was already in custody when Bonnie Loretta Huffman, 20-year-old rural school teacher, was slain early the next day and her body left in a weed patch some 20 miles north of Sikeston near Delta, Mo.

Authorities have expressed belief that Huffman was dead of a broken neck two miles from her abandoned car, was the victim of a sex killer. Authorities still are trying to solve the case.

Rowlett was returned to Scott County last Monday after extradition proceedings.

Orders Check to See Whether Suspect Who Died Was Beaten

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Coroner Patrick J. Taylor has ordered an investigation to determine if a 31-year-old burglary suspect, who died Monday, has been beaten by police.

Milton Givens was arrested last Wednesday and, police said, admitted at least one recent burglary two days later.

Capt. Thomas Diarrane, head of the Newstead Police District, said Givens was sent to Homer G. Phillips Hospital Saturday complaining that "his ulcers were bothering him."

"I am certain that none of the officers laid a hand on him," the captain said.

Dr. John J. Connors, coroner's physician, reported yesterday that an autopsy showed Givens died of diaphragmatic hernia which could have been caused by a blow.

The physician said that the rupture of the diaphragm did not appear to be recent, however, and may have happened when Givens was injured in an auto crash Jan. 10.

The beating accusation came from Givens' uncle, Frank Singleton, 38, who said he was told about it last Thursday by the prisoner.

Boy Dies of Polio

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP)—Gary Whiteside, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Whiteside of Arbyrd, Mo., died of polio at a hospital here early today.

He was stricken last Thursday.

Smith Geneva Bound

Will Represent US Without Detracting From Dulles Refusal To Appear Personally

PARIS (AP)—Walter Bedell Smith, U.S. undersecretary of state, will go to Geneva soon to represent the United States at the Geneva conference, a communique issued by the three Western big power foreign ministers announced today.

Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Eden and Premier Pierre Mendes-France issued the communique after two days of meetings. They said Smith's presence at Geneva would satisfy British and French demands for a high level American representative at Geneva without detracting from Dulles' principles against his own presence there.

Dulles now will return to Washington, and Eden and Mendes-France will return to Geneva to continue talks with the Communist powers on an Indochina cease-fire.

During the talks which started here yesterday evening, the three statesmen were believed to have outlined concessions which might be made to bring a halt in the fighting in Indochina. The ministers met alone again this morning, while a technical committee was putting this outline down on paper.

There was no hint as to the peace terms discussed.

Dulles is known to feel that France has the primary responsibility for settling the war, since she has carried the principal burden for almost eight years. As one source put it, the United States has furnished money, but money is no substitute for blood and lives, and the United States should not try to dictate a peace settlement on the basis of its financial contribution.

Dulles came to Paris after Eden and Mendes-France urgently requested his presence at the Geneva talks. Although apparently firm in his resolution not to go to Geneva, a limited support for his visit here gave the British and French ministers seems to have been enough to spark optimism about a final settlement.

Even after this morning's meeting, however, Dulles' final attitude on America's role in the talks was still left open for modification in the future.

Before the Big Three conference, Dulles and Eden passed up the French capital's big Bastille Day parade down the Champs Elysees to confer together for an hour.

Earlier yesterday an authoritative British informant in London told newsmen the United States and Britain had "pretty well agreed" to accept a partition of Viet Nam.

Dulles had not convinced Dulles last night he should balk at their negotiations with the Reds by returning to the Indochina peace talks at Geneva.

Dulles had declined to go back to Geneva, or to send Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith, to avoid American responsibility for any peace agreement smacking of appeasement of the Communists.

Mendes-France and Eden were scheduled to return to Switzerland this afternoon.

In the talks here, Dulles was reported pushing hard for immediate organization of a Southeast Asia defense alliance, contending as he has in the past that such a lineup against Communist expansion would strengthen the West's bargaining position at Geneva.

Have Spent 13 Years in Prison—Two 'Forgotten' Convicts Get a New Trial

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Two convicts, "forgotten men" for almost a decade, have won a new trial after spending more than 13 years in prison.

They received the new chance on their claim that they did not have the benefit of legal advice in the original hearing back in 1941.

For a while in 1945 and 1946 it looked as if they might get a new trial. Then confusion and a quarrel between courts closed the state penitentiary gates once again.

Years went by until a sympathetic lawyer intervened to give them a new chance.

Here's the story: Joseph Montgomery, then 21, and Lawrence E. Young, then 23, were charged 13 years ago with kidnapping, first-degree robbery and car theft in St. Francois County, Mo. They admitted in court they got drunk and took a man in his automobile to St. Louis.

On their pleas of guilty, the St. Francois County Circuit Court judge sentenced each to life imprisonment on the robbery and kidnapping charges and five years for car theft. The judge, Frank Fenwick, has been dead for many years now.

After four years in the state Penitentiary here, Montgomery and Young hired a lawyer and filed a plea for release in the Cole County Circuit Court. Circuit Judge S. C. Blair, upon being told the men did not have an attorney in their original hearing, ordered them returned to St. Francois County to be dealt with according to law.

But the St. Francois County judge, Norwin D. Houser at that time, said one circuit court couldn't undo the action of another circuit court. He said the record of the St. Francois County Circuit Court stood unblemished and ordered Montgomery and Young back to prison. At first, prison officials wouldn't take them because two contrary circuit court decisions hung over the men. There was no prison commitment order by which they could be held as convicts once again.

City School Board Approves Making Offer for Land Site

Vote Is Split, 4-2; Supt. Hunt Gives Data On Availability of Federal Building Aid; Accepts Nicholson Low Bid on Paint Project

The Sedalia Board of Education voted 4-2 Tuesday night to make an offer for the purchase of part of the Parkway Addition, bounded by Fifth and Seventh, Warren and Limit, for possible use later as a building site.

The board also (1) heard a report on available aid, (2) authorized payment of salaries and (3) accepted low bids for window shades and a paint project.

Press Plane Makes Forced SFB Landing

Passengers Are Put On Another Plane Going to Camp McCoy

An Air Force plane, carrying Missouri newsmen on a press tour to Camp McCoy, Wis., made an emergency landing at the Sedalia Air Force Base today after an engine caught fire.

The second plane left for Camp McCoy at 1:58 p.m. No one aboard the crippled plane was injured.

Capt. Kenneth Lacey, the pilot, brought the disabled plane down at 110 miles an hour. Two fire trucks and an ambulance were waiting at the end of the field.

The passengers were to be placed aboard another plane to continue the trip to Camp McCoy, where Army Reserve units, including the 102nd Inf. Div., are in summer field training.

Passengers aboard the plane included Jack Kennedy, editor of the Southwest at Joplin; Jim Randall, KFSE, Joplin; Victor Sloan, Kansas City, editor of the Jewish Chronicle; and Ed Shook, Kansas City, a member of the Kansas City Star staff.

News Flashes

Eliminate Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate House conference committee agreed today to knock out of President Eisenhower's big tax revision program most of the tax cuts for single heads of households.

It was the first major decision as key tax writers tackled the task of settling hundreds of differences between the House and Senate.

Before the Big Three conference, Dulles and Eden passed up the French capital's big Bastille Day parade down the Champs Elysees to confer together for an hour.

Earlier yesterday an authoritative British informant in London told newsmen the United States and Britain had "pretty well agreed" to accept a partition of Viet Nam.

Green Ridge Buys A New Fire Siren

Contributions toward the fire siren for the city of Green Ridge have exceeded the goal. A total of $305 has been collected from the citizens and several from other towns have given generous contributions.

The siren was ordered last week and is powered by a 212 h.p. electric motor. A representative of the Missouri Public Service Company has assured Jim Stark that they will supply the power to operate the siren free of charge.

The siren will blow each day at noon to be sure it stays in operating condition. Stark is looking for an old windmill tower on which he plans to have the siren mounted.

Something went wrong with that siren, because it swung around past the last mark on the dial, which is 120 degrees, and kept on going up the other side of the dial, starting all over again.

If there had been marks all the way around, the needle probably would have indicated about 140 degrees. Maybe that's how hot it felt. The thermometer must have human traits.

So the St. Francois County sheriff, Herman Heck, hauled the men to Cole County jail and left them in a deputy sheriff's keeping until he could straighten things out.

The men were permitted to walk across the street to get their own lunch, because the Cole County sheriff had no legal hold on them. They returned voluntarily and later left on the advice of their attorney.

Montgomery and Young then returned to their St. Francois County homes and had a good night's rest.

But the next morning a member of the state Highway Patrol picked up the two men and took them to the release by Judge Blair.

The Sedalia Board of Education voted 4-2 Tuesday night to make an offer for the purchase of part of the Parkway Addition, bounded by Fifth and Seventh, Warren and Limit, for possible use later as a building site.

The board also (1) heard a report on available aid, (2) authorized payment of salaries and (3) accepted low bids for window shades and a paint project.

The other site being considered by the board was the area directly north of the Wheel-In on West Broadway.

The area chosen is that part of the Parkway Addition bounded by Warren, Seventh, Fifth and a line beginning on Seventh east of the wire fence and the ditch and going north 347 feet to the McCown property, then east to the line between Lots 7 and 8 of the McCown property and north again to Fifth.

Voting for this area were A. L. Hawkins, Sr., Harry Brougher, Forrest Benner and Ralph Salmon. Dissenting were William F. Brown and V. A. Siegel.

The offer will be based on an appraisal made recently by the three Sedalia realtors without interest in the property. The board authorized Attorneys Frank Hayes and Chester Wolfe to make the offer to the property owners.

This is the third area which had been considered by the board. Earlier, it had decided against property west of the Jennie Jaynes Lewis Memorial Stadium.

In his report to the board on federal aid, Supt. Heber Hunt said that he had talked last week with a representative of the U. S. Office of Education, J. L. Watson, the same man who assisted the Sedalia schools in making application last fall for federal building and current aid. The money was issued on a priority basis and Sedalia schools were eligible only for current aid.

An additional $70,000,000 has been appropriated by Congress, Hunt said, and the building aid law has been changed so that there is a possibility the Sedalia school system will be entitled to approximately $41,870. He said it would probably be late summer or early fall before it would be known how much aid can be expected.

The Sedalia board originally made application for $126,000 in building aid in 1953, but this was denied because the appropriation money ran out before Sedalia's priority number was reached.

In the application was included a request for money to add three rooms at Horace Mann School. This project is now underway, with the money being taken from the school general revenue fund. It will not, therefore, be included in new application for federal aid.

Supt. Hunt pointed out, however, that the work being done at Horace Mann School does not affect the remaining amount of building aid which will be requested. The decrease is based solely on a tighter law about such aid.

Supt. Hunt said that it was thought originally that the current aid granted to the Sedalia schools would total about $11,430 but that the average daily attendance of federally-connected (Please turn to page 6, column 5.)

Sedalia Thermometer Blows Top; Needle Swings to 140 Mark

At least one thermometer in Sedalia blew its top today.

The circular thermometer on the front of Hillman Battery and Electrical Service Co., 420 South Osage, is the type marked like the face of a clock with a revolving needle indicating the temperature.

Something went wrong with that needle, because it swung around past the last mark on the dial, which is 120 degrees, and kept on going up the other side of the dial, starting all over again.

Ike Nudges Congress To Pass His Tax And Farm Program, Sees Economy Profit

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower nudged Congress today for quick passage of his tax and farm programs.

He said the tax program would help the economy expand and create more jobs and his farm proposals would benefit the entire country and thus prove to be the best kind of politics.

Eisenhower also told a news conference that the House members who killed his health reinsurance program simply don't understand the facts of life.

The American people lost, he said, when the House rejected the program 238-134.

And, Eisenhower said, he will carry on the fight for such a program as long as he is in office.

In the field of foreign affairs, Eisenhower said he expected to announce something shortly, perhaps during the day, on the American-British-French talks in Paris on the Indochina question.

In Paris, a communique from the Foreign Ministers of the three nations announced that Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith will go to Geneva soon to represent the United States at the conference there on the Indochina situation.

Eisenhower said Dulles went to Paris early this week to see, among other things, if United States representation at the Geneva talks would be helpful rather than damaging in reaching an Indochina settlement.

He said Dulles' visit reflects a great concern on the part of this country to keep a united front on fundamental principles with its chief allies, Britain and France.

The President also made a formal announcement that South Korean President Syngman Rhee's July 26 visit to the United States will be for the purpose of making further plans for "the attainment of a unified, free and independent Korea."

It was announced in Seoul earlier in the day that Rhee would visit Washington. Eisenhower's statement said he invited the South Korean President some time ago to make a state visit.

On other matters Eisenhower said:

1. He is not going to let his proposal for a limited share-the-atom program for peaceful purposes die if he can help it. This program he outlined before the United Nations last December. It calls for participation by the Russians as well as this country's allies. The President said he was sure British Prime Minister Churchill agreed with him the plan should not die even if some people—meaning the Russians—will not go along with it. His meaning seemed to be that an atomic pool without the Soviet bloc is a possibility.

2. He thinks the Senate Agriculture Committee made a grave error in voting to raise the support price of butter from 75 to 85 per cent of parity. This won't help the basic problem—selling more butter at a reasonable price—the President said, and the people who will profit will be the middlemen who can sell their butter, stocks to the government at a cost of a hundred million dollars or something of that kind to the taxpayers.

3. He is not committed to any particular formula for building highways but is absolutely convinced a multi-billion-dollar highway construction program is needed with both federal and state support. His call for increased highway modernization through the federal grant-in-aid system has run (Please turn to page 6, Col. 3.)

Says Air Force May Increase SFB Strength

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Hillison (R-Mo.) said today the Air Force has advised him of plans to increase the strength of the Sedalia (Mo.) Air Force Base to approximately 3,500 military and 400 civilian personnel by the end of this year.

The plan, he said, provides for about 3,000 military and 425 civilian personnel during the latter part of 1955.

There now are approximately 2,400 military and 260 civilian personnel assigned to the base.

The Air Force has been authorized to spend $24,901,900 for construction at the base, he said.

Ike's Adviser Says Economy Is Leveling

Speaks at Panel Meet At the 46th Annual Governors Conference

BOLTON LANDING, N.Y. (AP)—Presidential adviser Gabriel Hauge told the nation's governors today that the economy is stabilizing and the country is "catching its breath" for a possible advance to a 450-billion-dollar gross national product in five years.

Speaking at a panel session of the 46th annual Governors Conference here, the White House economist said Eisenhower's legislative measures already approved and now before Congress contain "billions of dollars of economic punch and stimulation."

Contending that what he called the "recession or readjustment" which has been in progress since July, 1953, has been halted, Hauge said that a reorganization now is going on that should bring a forward surge.

While Hauge did not mention it specifically, governors agreed generally that President Eisenhower's proposal to superimpose a 10-year 50-billion-dollar interstate highway building program on normal outlays of 40 billion in that period would help stimulate the economy.

Gov. Theodore McKeldin, Maryland Republican, told his colleagues that the governors have been "suffering a severe attack of buck fever" in expressing fears that the President's proposal means that they would be barred from controlling highway programs of the future.

In a prepared speech defending the President's proposal, McKeldin said Eisenhower "seeks to dictate nothing" about the form the program should take.

Alluding to demands that the federal government get out of the gasoline and auto tax field and let the states' collect such levies to finance highways, McKeldin said the president was not foreclosing such a system.

All the President was asking, McKeldin said, was for the governors to get together on a national program.

Virginia Picks Dems to Race To Unseat GOP

RICHMOND, Va. (P)—The task of recapturing two of Virginia's seats in Congress from the Republicans was handed to Ernest Robertson and John C. Webb—both members of the House of Delegates—by Democrats yesterday in primary elections in the 6th and 10th districts.

Robertson, a 39-year-old Roanoke County salesman with six years' experience in the State Legislature was the somewhat surprising winner over Powell Glass Jr., Lynchburg newspaper publisher, and grandson of the late U.S. Sen. Carter Glass. A third candidate in the race, Dr. J. Carl Poindexter, Salem College professor, was not factor.

Webb, 38, a Fairfax attorney and a newcomer to the Legislature this year, topped a field of four in the northern Virginia 10th with his closest opposition coming from Dean Brundage, 30, an Arlington High School teacher. Two other attorneys in the race, J. Walter White and Charles Lewis Knight, were also-rans.

When Associated Press tabulation of the vote was halted with 196 of the 6th's 206 precincts reported, the vote was: Robertson, 5,982; Glass, 4,699; and Poindexter, 936.

Complete unofficial returns from the 10th's 104 precincts showed Webb, 4,693; Brundage, 3,741; White, 1,247; and Knight, 715.

In 1952 the GOP captured three of Virginia's 10 seats in Congress in the Eisenhower sweep. Robertson will go against Republican Rep. Richard Poff in November. Webb will try to unseat Rep. Joel Broyhill (R-Va.), the first congressman to represent the new 10th. The Democrats nominated Sheriff Pat Jennings of Smyth County several months ago to take on the third Republican 1952 winner—Rep. William C. Wampler of the southwest 9th District.

The seven Democratic Virginia congressmen had no primary opposition although at least four of them face opposition in the general election. Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D-Va.) had no Democratic opposition in the primary although the Republicans are holding a convention Saturday at Roanoke to pick a candidate to oppose him.

Airline Plays Stork

OKLAHOMA CITY (P)—An airliner, not the stork, brought a set of triplets into Oklahoma City yesterday.

The trio addition to the Bruce Howard family came on an airplane from Wichita, Kan., on their month-old birthday. The boy babies, each weighing slightly over four pounds, were accompanied by their mother and three Braniff Airline hostesses.

IT'S A DOUBLE "DOUBLE"—Twins Betty and Becky Hawkins, of Asheville, N. C., like the idea of taking their picture with three-week-old twin calves, a rarity in the farm world. "Buck" and "Baldy" are the barnyard twins, and their mama stands in the rear.

Site of First A-Test Has Been Transformed to Oasis

ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (P)—The eyes of the passengers searched the hazy distance, following the directing finger of the airliner's pilot.

Under the shoulder of bleak, barren Oscuro Range, they finally saw what he was trying to point out.

It wasn't much, just a little disk-shaped spot in the desert—a little darker than surrounding land.

Not much—that soon—not much to show for the world-shaking event that happened there nine years ago. That spot is all that remains to mark the first atomic explosion July 16, 1945.

Some months ago a construction outfit finished scraping up the glasslike substance formed of the surrounding sandy topsoil as the intense heat of the blast melted it.

The Atomic Energy Commission didn't want to take any chances that the desert wind might stir up radioactive dust from the trinitite as it slowly disintegrated.

The contractor scraped it up and buried it in a large pit nearby. Then the Soil Conservation Service stepped in and planted grass it believed would thrive in the desert area.

Apparently it was right, for that grass is a little greener than the surrounding area. Maybe it gets a little more water too, for it's in a 1,100-foot-wide, 10-foot-deep saucer-pounded into the desert by the momentous blast.

Apparently nature will have to continue as the only marker of the spot—maybe for years to come, for the area is part of White Sands Proving Ground, one of the nation's prime rocket development sites.

The spot eventually is to be opened as a national monument, but even National Park Service officials must obtain special permission to get into the area.

The glassy material, named for Trinity, where the historic blast was set off, is gone, but as a park service official says:

"At least no one can remove the site."

Hackney Horse Challenge Trophy Offered at Fair

The American Hackney Horse Society, New York has notified Robert E. Reds Open Trial Of Mining Experts

BERLIN (P)—A Communist court has opened a trial in Halle of six East German mining experts charged with attempted sabotage of production in copper mines.

Pulls Shroud Over Chief Health Item

WASHINGTON (P)—House Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana dolefully pulled a shroud today over a key item in President Eisenhower's health program.

"It's dead," he said of a proposal for federal reinsurance of commercial health insurance plans to encourage them to expand coverage and benefits.

The House voted 238-134 yesterday to send the reinsurance proposal back to the House Commerce Committee—to the astonishment of House Republican leaders, who had been confidently forecasting easy passage.

Halleck told the House that recommitment of the bill would kill it because Congress is working for adjournment in a little over two weeks.

Halleck told newsmen the plan's death is traceable to "Democrats who didn't think it goes far enough and some Republicans who think it goes too far." He also placed some of the blame on the American Medical Assn., which he said exerted considerable pressure against the proposal.

The bill would authorize the federal government to underwrite up to 75 per cent of the losses suffered by private and nonprofit insurance firms as a result of voluntary expansion of their health and medical programs.

US Pushes for Release Of Yanks Held by Czechs

FRANKFURT, Germany (P)—The U.S. Embassy in Prague said today it is "pushing" for release of seven American soldiers seized by Czech Communist border guards July 4.

"We keep pushing for their release," an embassy spokesman said by telephone, "and anything is possible. We are hoping something might happen this week." But he added:

"So far, we haven't heard a thing. We have no idea where they are."

Yanks. Soviets Work Nearby On Flood Relief

VIENNA, Austria (P)—American and Russian troops worked within a few hundred yards of each other outside Vienna today in an effort to save a U.S. airfield and two Austrian villages from floods.

The waters of the swollen Danube River, raging downstream after leaving 70,000 homeless in Germany and Western Austria, threatened the U.S. Air Force base at Tulln. Isolated in the Russian occupation zone of Austria, it is 22 miles northwest of Vienna's American sector.

Officials said the airfield was "pretty much out of danger," unless the waters took a big rise. Floods from the Danube approached within 200 yards of the field, inundating the communities of Tulln and Langenleubarn and flooding a road connecting them with the airfield.

Russian and American troops worked on the road but there reportedly was no actual cooperation between them.

Last night a 3-year-old child fell into the Danube near Vienna and it was expected to reach its high point at the capital sometime tomorrow, bringing the total dead reported in Austria and East and West Germany to 28.

Conservative estimates placed property damage at hundreds of millions of dollars.

West and east of Vienna, hundreds of newly endangered families were evacuated during the night. The river was still rising.

Choose Beach Togs Carefully

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Most of this year's delightful, frilly, bloomer-type bathing suits just don't come in sizes over 14. And with good reason—it's a style that definitely wasn't meant for the older women.

Dressmaker-type swimsuits are your best choice. Most of these suits come with built-in bras and girdles. The skirts are full, and cut slightly circular. Choose a becoming color; dark shades are most slimming.

Your beach coat, too, should be longish and rather full. And if you like beach sandals, be sure you wear them on well-pedicated feet.

Shorts are not for the older woman. And unless you are really slender, it's smart to avoid wearing slacks. However, if you are slim and look well in slacks, remember to wear a smart-looking, hip-length cotton cardigan, too.

Denim, seersucker or gingham play suits are both attractive and suitable. They should be short-sleeved, but not sleeveless. And the skirt should be detachable.

Sunback dresses look smart, provided they come with concealing bolero jackets. But don't make the mistake of wearing a sunback dress without its bolero jacket. Quite often, the upper arm is not an older woman's best point, particularly when there's a weight problem involved.

A smart appearance at all times is of real help to the older woman in maintaining the dignity she's acquired as part of her personality.

Dry, Brush Hair Outdoors in Summer Sun

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

From now till fall, you should be taking advantage of the benefits gained by drying and brushing your hair outdoors in the sun.

For fresh air really helps to keep your hair and scalp in top-notch condition. And an outdoor hair beauty treatment will restore most of your hair's natural highlights, too.

First, of course, you'll have to shampoo your hair. Give it two sudsy latherings. Then, using a good, stiff massage brush, massage your scalp until it tingles. This will increase circulation and cleanse away any loose particles of skin on your scalp.

Rinsing is most important. To remove every bit of shampoo, you must rinse your hair several times with lukewarm water. For a really thorough job, use a spray attachment. But if you haven't one, a small pitcher or cup will do.

Then, gather together your towel and hair accessories and go outside. Sitting in your lawn chair with a small table nearby (to hold your brushes, comb and hairpins) towel your hair vigorously.

After drying your hair, give it 200 strokes with your brush. And don't forget to massage your scalp outdoors. The combination of wind, sun and air, plus the scalp massage, will do wonders for your hair.

While you're outdoors, you can set your hair, too. Then, when you go into the house, you'll be ready to take out the pins and look your prettiest.

C. of C. Board Learns Plans For Future

The regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors was held Tuesday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce office at which reports of various committees were heard and a vote was taken to transfer all monies of the Air Academy fund, no longer needed for that purpose, to the general fund.

Among the future activities discussed was the Dairy Day Festival for which Merle Vaughan, director of the farm marketing division, announced the date of Oct. 2, had been set. He also told of the 4-H-Business and Civic Leaders picnic which will be held at the park July 15.

Maurice Hogan, director of the transportation division, told of the meeting held here to form a Highway 65 organization and stated that the Highway Department immediately announced that plans suggested for this particular highway were in its program. The highway department also pointed out that three cities are scheduled to be bypassed in the highway program, one being Sedalia, Mo., which is not to be bypassed. The highway, but to change its route, Mr. Hogan explained.

George Dugan Sr., retail merchants division director, told of some future promotions planned by his division and also of the success of Appreciation Days. Mr. Dugan also called attention to the poor display of flags by business houses on days when flags should be displayed.

It was brought out in the meeting that a number of business men are making inquiries as to what might be done about the railroad shops and are interested in doing what they can to help in the situation that now seems to exist here.

During the month committees have been active with 15 meetings having been held. Chester A. Brown, executive manager, stated. He also mentioned some of the "thank you" letters received by the Chamber of Commerce for various things taken care of by the office. Such letters, he said, come to the office every day.

Plans are being made for the Sedalia float which will be in the Missouri State Fair parade the opening day of the fair and the parade will be held in the downtown section as well as at the fairgrounds.

A report was made by the industrial committee on a trip made recently in the interest of getting a new factory located here.

The Chamber of Commerce gave four plaques for the Midwest Star Show held here on June 15, and a report was also made on the part the Chamber of Commerce took in entertaining the contestants in the Make-it-Yourself With Wool Contest.

Announcement was also made of the United Community Center coming to a meeting here June 17 at which James A. Madison, National Recreation Association, and Howard C. Beresford, national representative of the regional office of Community Services, were present. Another meeting is scheduled for July 16, at which Mr. Beresford will also be present.

A report on the area development meeting held July 7, was made and letters were read from the men attending from Kansas City.

Several letters in appreciation of the Sedalia Air Force Base-Chamber of Commerce picnic were also read.

The board meeting was presided over by Claude L. Boul, president, and those present were: K. U. Love, first vice-president; Chester A. Brown, executive manager; Mrs. Ike L. Warren, treasurer; Ivan Berry, W. A. Smith, Maurice Hogan, Merle Vaughan, Jack Shoemaker, Miss Eva Evans, John Pelham, George Dugan Sr., and Robert Cain, directors.

Bennett Clark, Ex-Senator, Dies Tuesday

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (AP)—U. S. Appeals Court Judge Bennett Clark, 64, former U. S. senator from Missouri and son of the late Champ Clark, died in a hospital here yesterday.

The former senator suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Monday. He arrived in Gloucester about a month ago from Washington, his home, for a vacation.

Judge Clark was appointed to the District of Columbia U. S. Court of Appeals in 1945 after losing a bid in 1944 for his third term in the Senate.

His father, who was speaker of the House of Representatives then, appointed his son as parliamentary officer of the House in 1913. He served as parliamentary from 1913 to 1917.

He served two terms as senator from Missouri from 1933 to 1944. He was known as an isolationist and anti-New Deal Democrat, and vigorously fought the entry of the United States into World War II. He was the leader of the opposition which successfully blocked President Roosevelt's Supreme Court bill in 1937.

Will Increase ASC Storage Bin Capacity

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—The Missouri Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced today that 1210 grain storage bins, with an estimated 4,000,000 bushel capacity, will be added to the Commodity Credit Corporation's storage facilities in Missouri. The structures will be used chiefly for the storage of corn taken over under the 1953 price support operations.

Contracts for the additional storage space have been awarded by the Department of Agriculture to the Butler Manufacturing Company of Galesburg, Ill., and the Kirby Steel Company of Anniston, Ala., and the ASC estimated the cost of the new storage space at between 19.79 and 20.89 cents per bushel.

The bins will be erected by local labor at the bin sites under the supervision of the county ASC committees. They are cylindrical metal structures with steel foundation rings and hold a little more than 3,000 bushels each. The project will bring the state's CCC storage space to approximately 19,900,000 bushels.

The state ASC allotted them to the following counties: Andrew 15, Atchison 830, Grundy 15, Harrison 30, Holt 140, Montgomery 15, Nodaway 195, Putnam 15, Scotland 15 and Worth 30.

Winnie, Attlee Have Clash On Red China

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill clashed bitterly with Labour Prime Minister, today in a House of Commons debate over the seating of Communist China in the United Nations.

Attlee started off by accusing Secretary of State Dulles of "playing right into the hands of the Communists" by failing to return to the Geneva conference. He said it is "wrong, unwise and contrary to the principles of the United Nations" to bar Red China from that organization.

Churchill replied that an effort now to force Red China into the U.N. would be regarded in the United States as an "unlabeled act of unfriendliness."

Churchill accused Attlee of making "one long whine of criticism against the United States and of course advancing the importance, if not the virtues, of Communist China."

Churchill emphasized that Red China was still technically at war with the United Nations and was "stimulating the war in Indo-China."

I am sure to choose such a moment as this to try to force the entry of Communist China into the United Nations would be to complicate altogether the very grave affairs we have to deal with in so many other spheres and would be regarded as a most harsh and uncalled for act of unfriendliness by the mighty people of the United States, to whom we owe much and from whom no government ever received more than the Labor government."

The current aid law has been changed, too, he announced, and this year the Sedalia schools will be eligible for only about three-sevenths of the amount received for last year, or approximately $7,800.

The low bid of the Calles Furniture Co. of $373.90 was accepted for the purchase of 135 window shades. Other bids were: McLaughlin Bros. Furniture Co., $374.21, $440.78 and $615.70; Homemakers, $596; and Cook Paint and Varnish Co., $495.77.

The board also chose a Chevrolet to be used as the driving training car in the school system next year. Under the terms of the arrangement, the car is furnished free, dual controls, decals and fire and theft insurance are provided by the dealer, the board carries the liability insurance and the car will be available Sept. 1.

The board approved the purchase of miscellaneous driving materials amounting to $166.74. Rentals on the school buildings for outside activities last year totaled $3,314.50, Supt. Hunt reported. Additional expenses because of that outside use amounted to $2,144.42, leaving a balance of $1,170.08, used for extra heat, light, water and related expenses.

TVA Power Deal May Hold A-Energy Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Anderson (D-Mo.) said today a long Senate look at a proposed government contract to buy electric power in the TVA area may delay President Eisenhower's broad new atomic energy program.

A controversy has been raging in Congress over the President's directive to the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) to negotiate a contract for construction of a new private power plant to serve the Memphis, Tenn., area over Tennessee Valley Authority lines.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), administration floor leader, said the 104-page Atomic Act revision bill, said the power issue promises to provide the main battle on a measure designed primarily to allow giving certain atomic information to allies and to permit private operation of nuclear facilities.

Hickenlooper said he also expects considerable debate on authority provided in the measure for the Defense Department to furnish allies with what he calls "sharply circumscribed" data on the "tactical employment of atomic weapons."

He told the Senate last night that the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, of which he is vice chairman, had provided "carefully stipulated safeguards" to withhold information on the "design and fabrication of the nuclear part of atomic weapons" (and) detailed engineering information on other sensitive parts of our weapons."

The United States, he said, still possesses "vast superiority in weapon power," although "traitors, spies" and captured German scientists have permitted the Russians "to make atomic weapons of their own independent efforts."

He said the United States also is ahead in the development of peacetime power from atomic energy.

He and Anderson said in separate interviews they did not expect the battle over the electric power issue to kill the entire bill, as some Democrats have predicted. Hickenlooper predicted the measure will pass the Senate after "considerable debate."

The bill reached the Senate floor last night. The House may begin debate on it within a few days.

Anderson said the proposal for the AEC to sign a contract with a private Southern utility group for a new plant at West Memphis, Ark., to generate 600,000 kilowatts of added power "goes beyond" the original intention of Congress.

The AEC now has authority to conclude 25-year contracts for needed power. The present bill makes no change in this clause.

"This is pretty important legislation," Anderson said. "We might hold the bill up for a while because billions and billions of dollars are involved."

Hickenlooper said that Democrats, who have threatened to try curtailing the AEC's long-term contract authority, "are not concerned with the morality of this contract but are afraid that TVA will not be expanded."

Forgotten Convicts

them up and returned them to prison.

Still there was no commitment order by which they could be held as convicts once again.

But to keep the confusion from getting worse, prison officials put the pair in receiving cells — the separated quarters for new prisoners. They stayed there for six months with no action taken either for or against them.

Then the prison authorities classified them for work in prison shops and for more than eight years they have been forgotten men.

In the period when things looked brightest for them, "the men tried to get a new release from the Supreme Court of Missouri. But the court held that the Cole County Circuit Court judge could not go behind the plain records of the originating court in deciding whether the men had an attorney. That seemed to clinch the case against them."

Then a few months ago a Jefferson City lawyer, Sam Haley, got wind of the case from inside the prison. He said he never represents convicts except when a clear case of law is involved.

He figured there was a failure of justice in the case of Young and Montgomery. He appealed to Federal District Court, laying before Judge Duncan the long history and facts of their parallel cases.

Judge Duncan sided with Circuit Judge Blair. He said, under the circumstances, Judge Blair had a clear right to question the printed commitment order and to check finally whether the men had lawyers at their first hearing.

Big 3 Nations Face Serious Defeat at Hands of Communist Forces In Indochina

Must Prevent The Disaster Of Red Win

WASHINGTON (P)—The United States, Britain and France are now face to face with a serious defeat at the hands of Communist forces in Indochina. Their real problem is to prevent the defeat from being turned into a major disaster.

The difficulty they face in this task—a task at the heart of Secretary of State Dulles' flying mission to Europe—is that they have no guaranteed weapons for successfully fighting off Red political infiltration and subversion behind dividing lines drawn in any Indochinese agreement which may be reached. Dispatches from Paris said Dulles was reported to have "pretty well agreed" to some such division.

Unless some way can quickly be found to produce a previously unknown degree of strength in the area and build up a solid political base for new defensive positions, the developing Communist triumph in northern Viet Nam will almost certainly prove to be but the first of a series of Red steps to conquer a far larger area.

One of the obvious difficulties is that Southeast Asia is so far beyond the power centers of the free world—the United States, Britain and Western Europe. As far as anti-Communism is concerned, the region provides little native basis for strength. In this respect it contrasts sharply with Korea and with Guatemala, whose new anti-Communist government was extended U.S. recognition yesterday.

When the United States negotiated an armistice in Korea a year ago, the White House, State Department and Pentagon were all convinced that the line established between Communist North Korea and free South Korea would hold because of South Korea's fierce opposition to communism under President Syngman Rhee's leadership.

Southeast Asia lacks both the Rhee type of strength and the reinforcing effect of closeness to American power, which was the case in Guatemala. The nearest bases of real power are Australia and New Zealand, aside from Britain's relatively small forces in Malaya.

So far two proposals have been put forth for backing up any armistice line which may be drawn in or around Indochina. British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden has proposed nonaggression guarantees. Secretary of State Dulles has proposed an alliance of about 10 anti-Communist nations having interests in the security of Southeast Asia. Both types of compacts would be designed to prevent open aggression against a fixed line—in other words, they would be able to deal only with a provable attack by the Communists, a renewal of the war.

But the real fear among informed officials here is that a limited Communist success in Indochina, the terms of which have been the subject of negotiation at Geneva, will have a magnetic effect on countries like Thailand, Burma and Indonesia are militarily weak. The only great power close to them is the Communist power of mainland China. It is an ideal setup, from the Kremlin's viewpoint, for squeeze pressure on the governments of those countries applied partly through diplomatic channels from the outside and partly through Communist party pressures from the inside.

The Western nations have no organized force, committed to their purposes, which corresponds to the centrally directed Communist party. They have no adequate counterforce where the party operates against local weakness and far from the main centers of anti-

Communist power.

Much of Southeast Asia is fertile ground for Communist anti-Western "Asia for Asians" propaganda, with a choice between surrendering more, because of the hatreds generated under long years of colonial rule. This is particularly true in Indochina where, in the American view, successive French governments have been too slow and too miserly in doling out measures of independence.

There has long been a difference of opinion in Washington over whether the loss of one such area as northern Viet Nam would mean a collapse of all the Southeast Asian states like dominoes falling in a row, as President Eisenhower once suggested would happen if all Indochina fell. The loss of one, most authorities agree, would not inevitably mean the loss of all, but it would create a far greater danger of collapse than has ever existed before.

If there is no agreement on ending the Indochina war in the few days remaining before French Premier Mendes-France's July 20 deadline, then the problem will be-

Pathologists Begin Final Examination Of Thorne's Body

CHICAGO (P)—A top-flight team of pathologists began a final examination today of the body of mail order heir Montgomery Ward Thorne in an effort to determine the cause of his mysterious death. Thorne's body was dug up from its grave yesterday when Coroner Walter E. McCarron obtained an order from the Criminal Court. McCarron is seeking to determine whether Thorne died a natural death, succumbed to a possible overdose of drugs or was slain June 19, nine days after he made major changes in his will. Dr. Harry Leon, coroner's physician, has concluded that the 20-year-old Thorne died from a combination of narcotics, a sleeping potion and wood alcohol. He opined that a second person administered narcotics into the youth's veins.

Mine Is Closed After Workers Are Ambushed

PENNINGTON GAP, Va. (P)—A nonunion coal mine near this community in the tip of southwest Virginia was closed down today after nine miners were ambushed yesterday as they prepared to go to work.

None of the miners was hurt at the C. R. Tomblinson mine about 11 miles north of here in Lee County, Tomblinson, the mine's owner, said "a dozen or more" men shot at his working force "for about 15 minutes."

He said he picked up "a pound of empty cartridges" after a fusillade of shots from a wooded area surrounding the small mine's entrance.

A man called him up yesterday, Tomblinson said, asking "if I were ready to sign up. The caller did not identify himself."

Tomblinson said he had worked under a United Mine Workers contract the past three years but canceled it April 19 "because we just couldn't make it paying union rates."

Lee County Sheriff W. P. Bays, venturing an opinion the attackers were bluffing, said his office investigated but made no arrests.

Tomblinson said his miners refused to work now and he would not reopen unless he "can get somebody to work it."

UMW officials were not available for comment.

Heavy Cattle Runs Worry Commissioner

JEFFERSON CITY (P)—Heavy runs of cattle at Missouri's livestock markets worried L. C. Carpenter, state agriculture commissioner, today.

He said reports from St. Joseph this morning showed the yards so jammed with cattle shipments "they couldn't get 'em unloaded." Yesterday, he said, trucks were lined up at the Springfield market for three blocks.

Most of the liquidation is in cows and calves. Heavy runs on these were reported last week at the Kansas City market also.

Carpenter said he planned to make a flying inspection trip tomorrow to determine just how serious the situation is and whether government aid will have to be requested. He said he hoped to check the St. Joseph, Kansas City, Joplin and Springfield markets tomorrow while his assistant, Rollo Singleton, inspects the East St. Louis, Ill., situation.

"There's no way of telling how much damage this heat is doing," Carpenter said. "If it continues through this week, our corn just can't stand the gaft."

He said he noticed yesterday the corn stalks were wilting fast in the hot, searing wind as he drove from Sedalia to Jefferson City.

Carpenter said the situation is as bad or worse than during last year's drought because there was no reserve of subsoil moisture this

Missouri Second Biggest Auto Building State

DETROIT (P)—Michigan, although it builds more cars than any other state, produces less than one-third of the nation's overall car total.

This is one of the findings in a state-by-state survey of car production by the trade paper, Automotive News. Other findings include:

Missouri has replaced California as the second largest car-producing state.

Twenty of the 48 states have car assembly plants.

Automotive news says the big reason for Missouri's climb to second place, with only four assembly plants compared to California's 10 last year, is that Chevrolet's top assembly plant is in St. Louis. It turns out 16.2 per cent of the Chevrolet total, compared with 9.2 per cent at Flint, Mich.

A tabulation of production by states for the first half of 1954 list the following percentages:

Michigan 30.8; Missouri 10.4; California 9.4; New Jersey 5.9; Georgia 5.1; New York 4.7; Maryland 3.5; Wisconsin 3.4; Kansas 3.4; Ohio 3.3; Massachusetts 2.9; Indiana 2.8; Texas 2.7; Illinois 2.0; Delaware 2.0; Pennsylvania 1.7; Minnesota 1.7; Virginia 1.6; Tennessee, 1.4; Kentucky 1.3.

Mac Calls Meeting Which Could Bring Firing of Employees

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) today called for a Senate Investigations subcommittee meeting Thursday which could produce action on demands for the firing of some staff employees.

McCarthy, the chairman, told newsmen he was calling the meeting specifically as a step toward his long-deferred investigation of alleged Communist infiltration on defense plants.

He said he will invite the subcommittee's members, however, to let him know in advance if they want to take up other matters. Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) said he will move to take up staff problems.

June 17, as the subcommittee wound up 36 days of hearings into the row between McCarthy and Army officials, Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) said he believed some firings were in order among employees on both sides.

Missouri Guard Nears Its Peak Strength

JEFFERSON CITY (P)—Maj. Gen. A. D. Sheppard, Missouri adjutant general, reported today the Missouri Air National Guard is almost at peak strength of 1,860 officers and men.

The units, which are located at St. Joseph and St. Louis, all were on active duty during the Korea War. Since then, Sheppard said, the Missouri Air Guard has recruited more than 1,500 men in little over a year.

Nationally the air guard has reached a strength of almost 50,000 men, highest in its eight-year history.

Mosley is to take the stand in his own defense as the last major witness late today or tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Small Nears End Of Testimony

ALLEGAN, Mich. (P) — Mrs. Edith Small's story of love for a slain admirer neared an end today. But there was no way of telling whether it had helped or hurt her dentist-husband's chances of escaping a first-degree murder conviction.

That won't be known until a jury returns a verdict in the trial of her husband, Dr. Kenneth B. Small of Detroit.

Dr. Small, 31, is charged with first-degree murder in the slaying May 29 of Jules Lack, 45-year-old New York industrialist-playboy. Police said Small interrupted a gay Memorial Day weekend party at a swank summer home near Allegan and blasted Lack with two pistol bullets at close range while his wife looked on in terror.

Yesterday the petite Mrs. Small, 30, mother of three small boys, told on the witness stand of happy days with Dr. Small during their college romance and in their early years of married life.

But she frankly admitted she fell in love with Lack during a Florida vacation last winter after her husband declined to go with her. Upon her return, she said, she told her husband she wanted a separation.

Dr. Small began drinking after that, she said, and on one occasion beat her after asking her about the "other man."

Defense Counsel Leo Hoffman asked her:

"You were in love with Lack after three dates, and that's why you asked your husband for a separation and a divorce?"

Mrs. Small replied: "That's the basic reason. But there were other basic differences of ideology. He (Dr. Small) wanted to be conservative."

Hoffman then asked if she wanted her husband to be "a big spender," and she answered that she "wanted a bigger person than he is."

At another point Mrs. Small testified that she asked for a separation "because I felt I didn't love him any more."

Hoffman has announced plans to attempt to prove that Dr. Small was temporarily insane at the time of the shooting.

Problem Goes Unsolved: How Heavy Is Hippo?

NEW YORK (P)—A weighty problem went unresolved today at the Bronx Zoo: How heavy is hippo Peter II?

Keeper Bob Montana set up a hippo-size scale and loaded it down with lures, such as vegetables and leaves.

Then he tugged away furiously, so to speak.

Peter II got his front feet up on the scale, paused, and turned contemptuously away.

His weight, it might be said, is somewhere between 500 and 700 pounds, plus that of the goodies he got for doing nothing.

Reds Protest 'Brutal Terror' in Guatemala

BERLIN (P) — The Communist Federation of Trade Unions in East Germany has protested in a letter to the secretary general of the United Nations against "brutal Fascist terror" in Guatemala.

The five-million-member organization charged that 45 union officials have been murdered. It demanded that the U.N. Security Council meet immediately to agree on actions against the "raging of military dictatorship in Guatemala."

Cutting French-Italian Aid Can Hurt European Defense

By Bruce Blossat

This country is planning to withhold further financial and material aid from France and Italy until they approve the long-delayed European Defense Treaty. Such a bar may be written into the pending $3.5 billion aid measure sought by the Eisenhower administration.

This reflects an impotence in Congress and the Administration which is not only understandable but is widely shared by ordinary Americans. France particularly has stirred us to the point of exasperation with its endless dodging of the EDC issue.

Furthermore, it is plainly within America's power to give or hold back aid as it chooses, and we have a perfect right to attach reasonable conditions to the extension of such assistance. For example, we may fairly ask for assurances that our money will be well spent.

Yet the current plan appears to exceed reasonable bounds and to introduce into our relations with two long-standing allies an element of compulsion. The United States would be trying to force Italian and French ratification of EDC by the threat of financial disinclination.

Diplomacy by compulsion amounts to a contradiction in terms. There is serious doubt that it is ever effective in any real sense, except where a tremendous difference in power exists between the negotiating countries.

Suppose this plan went through and the French and Italians responded by ratifying EDC so they could remain eligible for aid. Everything we know indicates a substantial distaste for EDC in France. Could we therefore expect that the kind of cooperation the French would give the project would be much worth having?

The chances are great that it would not. An unwilling partner is seldom worth drawing into an enterprise.

Compulsion as a device of diplomacy suggests the failure of all other means. But is that really the case? Have we actually exhausted all approaches to the difficult problem of weaving Italy and France into an effective European defense system?

A wiser counsel would seem to recommend continued efforts at persuasion. It is still conceivable that in the light of new lessons learned about the Russians at Geneva, the French and Italians may be led to see more clearly the merit in EDC.

Furthermore, America and Britain, both non-members of the proposed army, might well undertake earnest discussion of real alternatives to EDC, which would mean new ways of bringing German armed strength into the Western alliance. It is entirely possible that when set beside such alternatives, EDC might suddenly take on new attraction for France and Italy.

Diplomacy is a hard and many times discouraging art. But is an art nonetheless, and as such it can hardly benefit from the use of rubber hose, third-degree style.

Man's Insect Enemies Have Heyday During the Summer

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

Among the enemies of man, the biting insects are in some ways the worst.

The rat flea carries bubonic plague, formerly known as black death, the tsetse fly of South Africa spreads the parasite of sleeping sickness. Certain ticks carry Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever and other diseases of that group.

One kind of mosquito spread the highly dangerous yellow fever; other forms of mosquito carry malaria. There are many other disease-carrying insects.

But it is not diseases alone which make insects our enemies; just the ordinary mosquito bite is bad enough.

The reaction to mosquito bites is not always alike. In some people a bite will cause swelling and severe itching, while in others the reaction is slight and lasts only a short time.

When the mosquito bites, it probably pushes something into the skin but just what this substance is still a matter of debate. It is generally believed to be similar to the substance which bees inject when they sting, the chemical nature of which is partly known.

Although attempts have been made to prepare extracts from the mosquito in an effort to create resistance or immunity in people, these trials have not been wholly successful.

Even if a satisfactory substance could be discovered and prepared for this purpose the resistance probably would not last very long and would have to be repeated each year and usually would hardly be worth the effort.

Hundreds of kinds of spiders are found in the Americas, but apparently only one, known as the black widow spider, is likely to produce severe symptoms by biting.

This is a shiny coal-black spider, usually marked with bright red or yellow or both. The female is the one responsible for the bites.

This spider measures about half an inch long on the average. When it bites it forces a poison into the wound which may make one extremely ill and can even cause death. Pain is severe.

Cutting into the wound and sucking on it are not of value as they are in some other kind of bites.

Neither is the use of drugs of the opium family, like morphine, of help. Hot baths, serum, and especially the injection into the blood of some substance containing calcium is the preferred treatment.

Fortunately bites by the black widow spider are not too common although it is a wise person who looks for these insects in dark places in sections of the country in which they are known to exist.

There are many other biting insects which space forbids mentioning in detail. Among them are the bedbug and the louse, both of which are fortunately becoming more rare under the more sanitary conditions existing today.

Longer River

The Missouri River is about twice the length of the upper Mississippi. Had it been discovered first, the Missouri probably would have been considered the principal source, with the present upper Mississippi as the tributary.

It Took Political Courage To Set Stiff Crop Controls

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson probably would have a tough time taking out any insurance on his political life. But most Americans, including the farmers, would be minded to give him high marks for nerve.

In a political year, with the rule of Congress at stake, Benson has just slapped on the stiffest acreage and marketing controls in the history of U. S. farm price supports.

Since so drastic a measure could not have been developed without high administration approval, credit for courage is tackling this thorny issue must reach from Benson on up to President Eisenhower.

Mr. Eisenhower and his Agriculture secretary are gambling that action according to what they deem the best interests of the country is better politics than a narrow response to the selfish demands of those who want to maintain high price supports without a corresponding effective control on production.

For many years those demands have been yielded to by Congress and the Executive, with the result that the nation is now weighed down with costly farm surpluses.

Benson, recognizing that even if his and the President's plan for more flexible supports should become operative the surplus problem will not be quickly licked, has acted to cut severely into future crop output to bring things into earlier balance.

He began by setting 1955 wheat acreage at 55 million acres, a slash of some 11 per cent below the 1954 allotment. Then he called for marketing quotas on wheat for the second straight year, fixing July 23 for wheat farmers to vote whether they want such quotas in return for continued high price supports.

The really stiff part of Benson's control scheme is this:

To be eligible for price supports on any one crop—like wheat or corn—farmers must in 1955 comply with ALL government acreage allotments, not just the allotment decreed for the crop on which they seek the subsidy.

Thus a farmer who wants wheat supports must agree not only to limit his 1955 wheat acreage but accept prescribed limits on corn, cotton, and other staples covered by the support law.

The object of this regulation is to prevent farmers from shifting output from one "surplus" crop to another, drawn by the attraction of high prices. It will compel them either to take some land wholly out of production, or turn it to crops not on the support list and not now building huge surpluses for government storage.

Lawmakers and the farm groups which have argued for high supports on staples subscribe in theory to the principle of acreage control as an offset to the magnet of high prices. But Congress often has found some excuse for easing acreage limitations.

Benson's plan puts the lawmakers to severe test. Many have been ducking the real farm problem a long time. If they should now try to overturn this new control, they will thereby acknowledge serious irresponsibility in meeting one of the gravest domestic difficulties of the day. What we need are men to follow Benson's statesmanlike example.

Tightening Up on Speeches

WASHINGTON—Speeches by military leaders are going to get much tighter review by the State Department from here on.

This decision has been made as a result of Rear Adm. Robert B. Carney's recent speech in New York before the National Security Industrial Association.

In this speech, Admiral Carney intimated that the U. S. must be prepared to join in the Indo-China fighting, as it had joined in the Korea fighting, if the resources of this part of the world were to be saved from Communist seizure.

Coming from the U. S. Chief of Naval Operations, this speech created quite an international sensation, particularly because it went beyond previous statements by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

One copy of the text of Admiral Carney's speech had been sent to the State Department for clearance, all right. But it was brought from the Pentagon by an officer who said that it could be examined for only half an hour, because he had to return it to Admiral Carney at once.

It so happened that no senior officers of the State Department were available in that particular half hour to review the text.

The junior official who looked it over didn't catch the importance of all Admiral Carney's statement of issues involved in the present international situation, towards the end of his speech.

What makes a talk of this kind difficult for America's foreign allies to understand is that under their set-up, no military man would be allowed to discuss foreign policy in this open manner.

It won't happen again in this country, if State Department officials can prevent it by closer scrutiny of their utterances.

Pleasing Victory

President Eisenhower can look with comfort on the virtual assurance that Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine will be back in the Senate next year. She must still run the gamut of the September Maine election, but no one anticipates trouble for her then.

Mrs. Smith got over her biggest hurdle when she defeated 34-year-old Robert Jones in the state's GOP primary by a margin of roughly five to one.

Her victory was a resounding vote of confidence for a woman who has mastered the techniques of lawmaking better than many men who try. She has proved a highly responsible senator, and a loyal supporter of the Eisenhower administration in its effort to put over a winning legislative program.

Jones was protégé of Senator McCarthy, though the latter did not campaign for him and Jones sought hard toward the end to divorce himself publicly from that link. Most observers felt McCarthy was not a strong issue in the Maine affair. But one wonders how the returns would have been read had Jones won.

The World Today—Red China's Chance Is Small

(By James Marlow)

WASHINGTON — At this moment Red China's chance of getting into the United Nations in 1954—although there was a recent storm here over the thought of it—looks small.

The United States is flatly against letting them in. The British are opposed to letting them in any time soon. Between them the two countries should have enough friends among the 60 U.N. members to keep Red China out now.

This is not to say the Chinese Communists will not eventually be admitted whether or not this country likes it.

It would be an amazing spectacle if Red China could get in this year. It would truly be shooting its way in. Three years ago the U.N. voted that Red China was an aggressor in the Korean War.

The Chinese had pretended the fiction that their countrymen who fought in Korea were volunteers. They still are in that war. There is only a truce in Korea, not peace. The U.N. resolution calling them aggressors has not been lifted.

The Chinese Communists would get some obvious advantages out of U.N. membership. It would mean that in the eyes of the world they had generally been recognized as the rightful rulers of China.

Only 17 U.N. members, including the British, recognize them now. They have to do their propagandizing now from faroff Peking. It would be a picnic for them if they were in the world forum of the U.N.

With representatives in the U.N. they'd have handy access to the representatives of other countries. They could join with the Russians to weaken the ties between the Western countries. This is a two-way street, of course, since the West could try the same thing on them and Russia.

If the U.N. gave them a seat and threw out Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists, now representing China in the U.N., the Red Chinese could start demanding possession of Formosa, now occupied by the Nationalists.

The Mighty MILO

THE STORY: Fred Anasch, supermarket employee and wrestling rival of Milo, have been matched with different opponents at a lodge meeting, to settle some bets. Milo quickly disposed of his opponent, Herman Glutz, a butcher, and Herman is to referee the bout between Fred and Jake Stumpfig, a fair collegiate wrestler. Jake has a hammerlock on Fred.

IX I INCHED along the mat with Jake on top of me, toward where Milo was sitting. If I could get off the mat, Jake would have to give up the hold, but the pain was too terrific. I was hardly aware of the shouting crowd, of Herman Glutz's face over us, while he waited to give the tap to Jake when I nodded that I had had enough.

Suddenly everything went dark and I thought I had gone blind from pain. Then Jake's grip weakened and with superhuman effort I threw it off. If he had blinded me, I intended to have my revenge. Groaning over me for his head, I caught him around the neck, pulled down and heaved upward with my body, and down he went, with a slam so terrific that it must have knocked him almost unconscious.

Then I realized that I could see again, which renewed my courage. Quick as a flash, I threw myself on Jake's recumbent body and pinned his shoulders. I not only pinned his shoulders, I practically sewed his whole body to the mat. He was so groggy that Herman Glutz had to carry him to the toilet that we were using for a makeshift dressing room. Which goes to show that in wrestling like every other sport, it is grit that wins.

Pa and the other five Odd Fellows who had bet on me slapped me on the back and said what a wonderful wrestler I was, while Milo kept repeating, "Fed good boy. Is good."

Jake Stumpfig and his father returned. Herman Glutz was pined by Chiang's government. Chiang has been supported and supplied by the United States. This country could hardly abandon Chiang and his people to the mercy of the Communists. But it seems like a problem. It would be only one of hundreds once Red China got into the U.N.

Sen. Knowland of California, Senate Republican leader, this month served notice he would resign his leadership and lead a fight to take the United States out of the U.N. the day Red China walked in.

This stand was the more remarkable because Knowland is President Eisenhower's lieutenant in the Senate. It caused a sensation here and abroad. Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have the duty to make American foreign policy.

Knowland explained he was only trying to strengthen Dulles' hand, but in effect he was telling the White House what foreign policy on Red China, at least, should be. It was the kind of statement which which Knowland could fry a lot of fish; it might chill any American ally who were flinching with the idea of voting for Red China in the U.N.; it might force the British into the open as being with or against this country in opposing Red China; and it might force Eisenhower and Dulles into declaring—and so influencing other countries—unilateral opposition to Red China.

Knowland's statement came on the heels of a visit here by S. Winston Churchill and Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden with Eisenhower and Dulles. There were rumors that the British wanted to let Red China into the U.N. Knowland may have feared Churchill could influence Eisenhower.

At any rate, this followed: Eisenhower and Dulles declared fixed opposition to U.N. membership for Red China, although they wouldn't go so far as Knowland in saying the United States should get out if the Communists got in.

And when he returned to England, Churchill said Britain would not want Red China in the U.N. until it had made peace in Korea and then for some while afterwards proved its good intentions. Since peace in Korea seems far off, U.N. membership for Red China on Churchill's terms seems some time away too.

NEWARK, N.J. — Daniel De Vito, 42, appeared before Chief Magistrate Harry Pine yesterday on a charge of the assault and battery of Virginia Howard.

Detective Michael Skurka charged that De Vito quarreled with the lady in a tailor shop June 25 and beat her severely about the head and body.

But when she took the stand yesterday, she refused to testify, claiming a wife's immunity. She said she and De Vito were married a week ago while he was out on bail.

Judge Pine dismissed the charges.

PITTSBURGH — Several Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) policemen have a choice assignment.

The cops, all golfers, will go out on the three county golf courses next week. They'll look like the average fellow trying to break par.

But they have orders not to worry too much about their scores. They've been ordered to keep on the lookout for an apparently well-organized gang of boys stealing golf balls.

World of Future Will Have More Fun for Entire Family

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If the world of today has you down, folks, just hold on—the world of tomorrow will be better.

A designing young man named Paul Wrablica, whose job is to help create new industrial products better geared to the needs of mankind, says that in 10 years our civilization will be more fun for everybody in the family—mama, papa, and all their little two-legged tax deductors.

First, let us take up Wrablica's vista of joy for Dad a decade hence:

"The average man, because of greater production efficiency, will work only 30 hours a week—and for more pay than he gets now."

"This will give him longer weekends, more leisure to enjoy the hobbies he likes. And their cost will come down. Suppose he likes sailing. Motor boats and sailboats will be molded from a single piece of plastic, as the bodies of some cars are now."

"That long wearisome ride from his job in the city to his home in the suburbs won't take so long. He'll speed there in a fraction of the present time in a jet-propelled monorail train."

"Even the parking problem will be solved to some extent with smaller cars and more automatic multi-level garages."

The housewife will have it even better, if the few in Wrablica's crystal ball is clear.

"Most homes will be air-conditioned the year around. This means less housework. There will be no danger of falling down stairs. There won't be many stairs. They will be replaced by elevators or inclined planes."

"The need for maids will practically disappear. The kitchen will become less important, because families will eat out more in restaurants that are truly homelike. There will be little formal entertaining in the home."

"Wives complain today about having to push or carry a heavy vacuum cleaner around. That won't be necessary at all. A woman will be able to plug a hose into an ordinary wall outlet and—zip—the dust will be sucked down into a disposal unit in the basement. Wives will have more and more time to spend caring for their children, going into politics or doing community work."

Wrablica is sure household gadgets of all kinds will be simpler, more durable, and less likely to need repairs.

And look what a pleasant life lies ahead for the kids in 1964—if he's right.

"Movies will be piped directly into the home."

"Toys will be designed better for a child's real needs, and they'll be safer. In fact, life in general will be safer because of better design."

"Television will be commonplace in the schools."

"The TV-telephone will be coming into general use."

Personally, I am not so sure about this TV-phone gadget. What businessman wants to look another businessman in the eye when he is quoting prices over the phone? Teen-agers, of course, will enjoy seeing each other in those long phone calls about their home work they make each evening.

But why pamper them? It's a mystery to grownups why any teenager can stand looking in a mirror, let alone look at another kid in the same age bracket. Most adults, remembering their own youth, are convinced that the kindest thing you can build for teen-agers is a cocoon in which they can hibernate until they're old enough to vote.

Wrablica, who teaches design at Pratt Institute, has another prediction that makes me even more uneasy about his drafting board dreams of life in America in 10 years. It's about beds.

"You won't have to worry about electric blankets in the bed of the future," he said. "It'll have thermostatic controls built right into it. I'll have vibrating equipment—so you can lie in your own bed and enjoy a massage before jumping up to go to work."

Jump up and face work when a man can lie in a bed that will automatically keep his neuroses at the right temperature, and give him all the exercise he needs, too? It'll never happen.

Why, put a few beds like that in the nearest poorhouse — and who'd ever take a job, or get up and face life?

That is why Anna Danette Baker entered the world yesterday at a

Her parents, sheriff's deputies and station attendants who helped with the delivery are recovering. Anna Danette, who weighed in at 7 pounds 3 ounces, is doing fine. She's in a hospital maternity ward now.

Ex-Communist Prisoner Joins Movie Outfit

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A former prisoner of the Communists—a Polish Army officer—has joined with seven other men in forming the nonprofit American Motion Pictures for Freedom.

The ex-prisoner, John Much, now a naturalized citizen of this country, said yesterday:

"We plan to make pictures dealing with life in America and with life in Russia to show people the difference. The films will be made in various languages."

Congress Highlights...

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate continues debating President Eisenhower's broad new atomic energy program amid indications that controversy over a side issue may delay a vote.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM) says some senators will insist on extensive debate of a proposed government contract to buy private electric power in the Tennessee Valley Authority area.

Some senators oppose a presidential order to the Atomic Energy Commission to contract for a new private power plant to serve the Memphis, Tenn., area over TVA lines.

Debate on this issue is lengthening discussion of administration-backed revisions of the Atomic Energy Act.

FOREIGN AID—Administration spokesmen testify at a closed session of the Senate Armed Services Committee in behalf of Eisenhower's foreign aid program, already trimmed by more than 10 per cent. The witnesses are Acting Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The Armed Services Committee usually leaves the foreign aid measure intact, though it doesn't have to.

TAXES—Senate-House conferees tackle differences between versions of the administration's tax revision bill already approved by both houses. Their biggest problem is to decide how much tax relief to give stockholders on divided income. The Senate balked at giving as much relief as the House voted.

HOUSING—The Senate Banking Committee continues its investigation of alleged irregularities in federal housing loan insurance operations.

Web Belt Saves Man From Death by Gun

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Octavio Flores, 19, was feeling pretty chipper today—and very much relieved.

Flores and Lupe Perez, 17, were wrestling yesterday when Perez playfully pointed a .32 revolver he thought was unloaded at Octavio and pulled the trigger.

The pistol belched smoke and flame and Flores crumpled to the ground holding his stomach and gasping.

But all the doctor at a local hospital did about it was place a small strip of adhesive tape on the youth's abdomen and tell him to go home.

A Navy-style web belt stopped the bullet from point-blank range. The slug was found between Flores' belt and his khaki trousers. Flores had a sort of bruised mid-section.

Sees Slight Chance For Heat Relief Through This Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The season's most extensive and most severe heat wave pushed eastward to the Atlantic today while a cool front from the northern Rockies began moving into the Midwest.

But no relief was in sight for south-central sections of the country, where seven consecutive days of plus 100-degree heat have taken a toll of crop and poultry losses.

Heat deaths mounted to at least 17 across the country and more records toppled yesterday as the sweeter belt stretched from southern Texas and South Dakota eastward.

Oklahoma counted 5 heat victims; Colorado, 4; Illinois, 2; Missouri, 2; Iowa, 1; Nebraska, 1; Louisiana, 1; and Pennsylvania, 1.

The heat wave was centered in southeastern Kansas and northeastern Oklahoma.

The day's highest official reading was 114, reached at Ponca City, Okla., and Emporia and Chanute, Kan.

Al Rosen Hits Pair of Homers, AL Wins 11-9 Over NL All-Stars

By JOE REICHLER

CLEVELAND — A slowly mending finger, a thing called pride and a big booming bat all played a prominent part in the American League's return to the winners' circle. The finger, pride and bat all belonged to one person, Al Rosen of the Cleveland Indians. The box score of yesterday's 11-9 American League All-Star victory over the Nationals shows it was a bases-loaded single by Nellie Fox in the eighth inning—a real "bleeder"—that drove in the winning runs to end the war of 13 pitchers in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium.

But it was Rosen who, despite a painful and swollen index finger, blasted two home runs, drove in five runs and spearheaded the annihilation of six of the National League's best pitchers.

It didn't come to light until later that Rosen had asked Manager Casey Stengel to be taken out after the first inning because he felt he "might hurt the team."

"Yes, I went to Casey before the game with the idea that I be taken out of the lineup," admitted Rosen in a clubhouse interview after the game. "I didn't sleep a wink all night worrying whether I'd be a detriment to the team."

"But pride got the better of me. Instead of begging off altogether, I suggested to Stengel that I give it one try because I felt I owed it to the fans who voted me on the team to bat at least once."

"Casey and I discussed three alternatives — play three innings, don't play at all or hit once and quit. Since Casey had no power to make any decision, he took the matter to Commissioner Ford Frick. The Commissioner decided to leave it up to me. I told Casey I'd like to go to bat once and then tell him how I felt."

"Well, I struck out in the first inning and felt terrible. The finger hurt like the dickens—it hurts more when you strike out—but I didn't say anything to Casey. I felt foolish pride but I didn't want to bow out in that way. If I had, it would have been a bad thing. I might have been so bad, I might have quit then. But not that way. I wanted to bat once more. Well, the next time up I hit a home run. You can't imagine the feeling. And would you believe it, the finger didn't hurt. Not much, anyway."

The home run hit off starter Robin Roberts in the third inning came after the Philadelphia right-hander had walked Chicago's Minnie Minoso and had given up a single to Cleveland's Bobby Avila. Ray Boone of Detroit followed with a home run to give the Americans a 4-0 lead.

The Nationals fought back with five runs against Chicago's Sandy Consuegra and Cleveland's Bob Lemon in the fourth, and added two more runs on a homer by Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski in the fifth, forcing lead 7-5, after the Americans had scored again in the fourth.

Rosen was not through yet, finger and all. After Yogi Berra had singled in the eighth, the 29-year-old convert to first base man walloped a second home run, even longer than the first. This 400-foot drive tied the score at 7-7. Rosen got his third hit in the sixth, a hot single off the third baseman's chest which didn't figure in the run that put the Americans ahead 8-7 in that inning.

Al's walk, however, played a major part in the eighth when the Americans trailed three times to overcome a 9-8 deficit. The Nationals had taken a one-run lead when pinch hitter Gus Bell of Cincinnati hammered a home run off Bob Keegan of Chicago, the sixth of seven pitchers used by Stengel.

Trailing 9-8, the Americans tied the score on Larry Doby's pinch-hit homer off Gene Conley of Milwaukee. Singles by the Yankees' Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra preceded the walk to Rosen. Carl Erskine of Brooklyn, sixth pitcher used by Manager Walter Alston, replaced Conley and fanned Mickey Vernon for the second out but Fox blooped a Texas leaguer in back of second base, just out of the reach of shortstop Alvin Dark, to chase in the winning runs.

The victory ended the National's four-game victory streak. It was the first triumph for Stengel, who had not won one in four previous tries. It was by far the wildest of the 21 games of the series, which the Americans lead 13-8. New records were set for most hits by one team, 17 for the Americans; most hits by both teams, 31; and most runs scored by both teams, 20. The six homers tied a record as did the two by Rosen and the five runs batted in by the slugging infielder.

A total of 43 players were used, 22 by the Nationals.

The attendance was 68,751.

Attendance Rising From '53 Standards; 11 of 16 Draw More

NEW YORK — The enthusiasm of followers of Willie Mays and the New York Giants, the continued merry turnstile clicking in Milwaukee are reflected in a mid-season survey of major league attendance figures.

The survey, by the Associated Press, disclosed today that attendance in the majors is up 834,028 paid admissions over a year ago with 11 of the 16 clubs showing increases.

American League clubs have played before 4,368,584 customers and those in the National to 4,248,197 for a grand total of 8,616,781. In the same number of home dates in 1953, the aggregate was 7,782,753.

The Giants, National League pace-setters, have attracted 670,273 fans for 39 home dates, a gain of better than 150,000 over 1953. In all of last season, Horace Stinson's hired hands drew only 81,518.

Milwaukee, which set a National League attendance mark last year with a draw of 1,826,397, also is ahead of its pace of a year ago. The Braves have attracted 965,006 fans—the most in the big leagues—which compares most favorably with their 954,878 total in 36 dates in '53.

Baltimore's improvement at the gate over the defunct St. Louis Browns has surpassed the entire Brownie total of admissions for '53. The cellar occupants have attracted 661,746 and could well reach the million mark in their first American League campaign since 1901.

Braves Play Dodgers Ahead of Schedule

MILWAUKEE — With no complaints from the newly organized players' association, the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Milwaukee Braves will resume the National League pennant chase a day ahead of schedule at Milwaukee tonight.

The day before and the day after the All-Star Game traditionally are off days in the majors, but this is the only opportunity the two clubs will have to make up a postponed game, so it will go on.

The Brooks will have an opportunity to shave half a game off the New York Giants' lead of 5½ games, but if they're going to do it, they'll have to beat Jim Wilson, who has yet to lose a game in six decisions. The Brooks will go with Russ Meyer, who shows a 6-2 record for the year.

Missouri Has Harness Race Season Set

Missouri's harness racing season will get under way on Wednesday, July 21, when the trotters and pacers take the track at the Scott County Fair, Memphis, Mo. The horses will make a two-day stand at the Memphis fair and then move into the following schedule:

Kahoka—July 28, 29, 30.
Fulton (night racing)—July 28, 29, 30.
Mexico—Aug. 3, 4, 5, 6.
Kirksville—Aug. 10, 11, 12, 13.
Missouri State Fair (Grand Circuit meeting)—Aug. 23 through 27.

Bethany—Sept. 7 and 8.

Racing over the Missouri circuit will be of high caliber this year, and it is expected that larger-than-average fields will be attracted by increased purse money at most of the fairs. Total purse money offered by six county fairs and the Missouri State Fair amounts to $23,150, the largest in recent years. The purses range upward from $300 to $1,000. Climax of the season will come at Sedalia when the state's best trotters and pacers will vie for $1,000 purses in the Missouri Cup races. The Missouri Cup Pace is carried for Monday, Aug. 23, and the trot for Tuesday, Aug. 24. These races are for 19 Class Missouri-owned horses. Several other races are on the program at Sedalia for half-mile track horses in addition to the events sponsored by the Grand Circuit and featuring the nation's best harness horses.

At Fulton's Callaway County Fair, racing will be held under lights. The half-mile track there has been lighted with 120,000 candle-power illumination, and harness racing will be presented as an evening attraction for the first time in the state.

In addition to the Grand Circuit events, the Missouri State Fair is offering a total of $4,000 to Missouri-owned, and half-mile track horses. The program and purse distribution for these events follows:

Monday, Aug. 23—19 Class Pace for Missouri-owned horses (closed June 1), $1,000.

Tuesday, Aug. 24—19 Class Trot for Missouri-owned horses (closed June 1), $1,000.

Wednesday, Aug. 25—16 Class Pace, for half-mile track horses only (closed June 1), $500.

Thursday, Aug. 26—16 Class Trot, for half-mile track horses only (closed June 1), $500.

Friday, Aug. 27—24 Class Trot, for half-mile track horses only (closed June 1), $500; 24 Class Pace, for half-mile track horses only (closed June 1), $500.

64 Golfers Entered In Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament

DENVER — Sixty-four golfers begin fighting par and tension today in the 18-hole championship flight of the 51st Trans-Mississippi golf tournament.

La. Joe Conrad of San Marcos, Tex., Air Force Base, the defending champion, fired two 69s in practice rounds.

Regarded as the chief threat to Conrad in his bid for a second straight title is Ernie Vossler, 25-year-old Fort Worth, Tex., plumber who took medalist honors with a brilliant 6-under-par 66 over the sun-baked Cherry Hills Country Club Course Tuesday.

Others favored on the basis of qualifying play include Jim Jackson, Walker Cup player from Kirkswood, Mo., who stroked two 71s to trail Vossler by only two strokes; and Dr. James Foust of the host club and Floyd Addington of Dallas, both with scores of 143.

Second best round of qualifying play was a 67 carded by Bob Vickers of Wichita, Kan., who birdied six holes. His 78 in Monday's play gave him a total of 145.

Among out-of-state players, Texas leads with 18 qualifiers. There are six from Kansas, five from Oklahoma, two from Missouri and one from Arkansas.

150 Tee Off Thursday For $25,000 Tourney

CLEVELAND — A field of 150 competitors, comparable to that of the National Open, tees off tomorrow in the $25,000 Manakiki open golf tournament.

Ed Furgol, the Clayton, Mo., pro who won the national open last month, had one of several practice rounds of 67 reported yesterday. Par is 72. He had a good workout on the course yesterday, playing 27 holes and then putting in some time on the practice tee.

Little League—Optimist, Lions Win On Tuesday

Little League games played Tuesday night resulted in the Democrat-Capital meeting defeat on a no-hitter by Optimist's ace hurler, Wertz, 12-0, and the consistent Lions beating Adco, 12-3. Both games were one-sided all the way.

In the first game, between the Democrat-Capital and Optimist, the Optimist reigned supreme all five innings to take the contest with ease. Wertz proved to be the outstanding performer of the evening as he pitched a no-hitter for the Optimist. Wertz also helped his own cause by "ugging a homer in the first inni g with one aboard. The other Optimist runs came in the second and fourth innings, five in the second and the same number in the fourth. Wagner, the starter for the Dem-Cap Newsboys, was credited with the loss as seven of the Optimist runs were scored off him before DeJannett took over.

The second game of the evening found the "roaring" Lions going all the way to defeat the "hot-cold" Adco team. Cairnes, the usual starting shortstop for the Lions, carried the mound duties for the win and did a superior job of pitching. The game was marked with home runs as one was hit by Beymer of Adco and one each by Daley and Wilhite of the Lions. The Adco runs came in the second, fourth and fifth innings, one in each frame. Lions scored six runs in the second, five in the third, and one in the fifth. Whitaker was the loser for Adco.

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad — The United States begins the annual long climb to the Challenge Round of the Davis Cup today when it meets the British West Indies in a first-round American zone match.

Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., has been given the first singles test against Geoff Ingfield, while Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif., will meet Ralph Legall. The other member of the American team is Hal Burrows of Charlottesville, Va.

Speaker Is Satisfactory

CLEVELAND — This Speaker, one of baseball's greatest fielders, was in "satisfactory" condition today at Lakeside Hospital where he is recovering from a heart attack. The "Grey Eagle," now 68, suffered the attack Monday and missed yesterday's All-Star game here.

He was player-manager of Cleveland 1920 World Series winner.

Public Opinion Believes Yanks Headed for Sixth World Series

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK — Now it's back to the mines for our baseball heroes, with all the big questions still to be answered before they choose up sides for the World Series next fall.

Are the Yankees, working on a nine-game winning streak when they broke off for the All-Star Game, at last making the major move which will send them winging toward their sixth straight championship? Their opponents fear so.

Can the Giants maintain their dizzy pace of the past month, which included six straight over Brooklyn, and sail steadily on through the hot months to an almost uncontested National League flag? Barring serious injury to one or more of their key players, there is strong opinion that Leo Durocher's club can do just that.

Has age suddenly caught up with the Dodgers in general and Jackie Robinson in particular, or has the club merely been caught in a slump which may lift any day now and transform it again into the almost unbeatable team that clinch the flag on Sept. 12 last season?

Getting back to the first one, the only possible reply has to be a reluctant yes. The nation's fans for the most part are terribly tired of seeing the Yankees win year after year. So are seven other clubs in the American League. But there appears to be nothing anybody can do about it.

There is no obvious reason why the Giants should not maintain their present pace, or something approximating same, if they keep away from the Pittsburgh Pirates. The club has enjoyed some luck, true, in pulling a lot of games from the fire in the late innings, but that is accepted as the hallmark of a good, sound outfit, which the Giants are.

In assessing the Dodgers' chances, there are some interesting figures to be considered. A year ago at this time the club, which was to clinch the pennant earlier than any other team in National League history, had won 52

Grantland Rice, Dean of Sports Writers, Dies

NEW YORK — Grantland Rice, who for more than 50 years covered the top events in baseball, golf, football, tennis and racing, is dead. He was 73.

Known as the dean of America's sports writers, "Granny" was stricken in his office yesterday while at work on his syndicated column "The Sportlight." He died in Roosevelt Hospital.

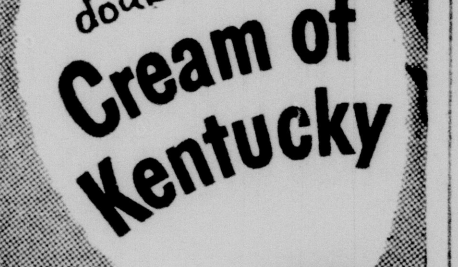

Rice originated the phrase "The Four Horsemen of Notre Dame," which grew into a legend after the Army-Notre Dame football game of 1924. It referred to the Notre Dame backfield of Elmer Layden, Harry Stuldrer, Jim Crowley and Don Miller.

He saw Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth begin their careers as rookies and later said he considered them the best ball players of the thousands he watched.

Rice started his career in 1901 with the Nashville News and later worked for Forester Magazine, the Atlanta Journal, the Cleveland News, the Nashville Tennessean, the New York Evening Mail, the New York Tribune and the Bell Syndicate.

He is survived by his widow Katherine, whom he married in 1906, and a daughter, Mrs. Fred Butler of Venice, Calif.

Jackson's Bid For Crown At Stake Tonite

NEW YORK — If Hurricane Tommy Jackson ever is going to rate a title shot at heavyweight champ Rocky Marciano, tonight should tell the story.

The Hurricane, a restless 22-year Negro from New York, boxes Mino Valdes, the Cuban giant, in an important 10-round heavyweight bout at Madison Square Garden.

The match will be carried on network (CBS) television at 10 p.m. EDT.

Valdes, at 6-3 and 207 pounds, is ranked No. 2 among Marciano's contenders, right behind Ezzard Charles although he beat Charles last year at Miami. Despite the high ranking, Jackson, the No. 5 boy, is favored.

Marciano is expected to give Charles a rematch in September, provided his eye cuts heal properly. If anything goes wrong with that match, tonight's winner would be ready to step in. A 1955 bout would be another possibility.

The Hurricane stirs up the fans more than any other new heavyweight has done in years. Either you think he is sensational or you think he can't fight a lick. The raves that followed his victories over Rex Layne, Clarence Henry and Dan Bucceroni turned to jeers when he was defeated by "spoiler" Jimmy Slade April 26. He regained some lost ground May 28 by stopping Charley Norkus in the Garden.

Red Hot JC In Cool Win Over Chiefs

In a game in which the Jefferson City Ban Johnson team was as hot as the weather, the Sedalia Chiefs lost their first start of the second half in the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League. The score was 12-1 at Jefferson City Tuesday night.

While the Sedalia team suffered for lack of players due to injuries, illness, vacations and boys who were unable to get off from work, the Jeff City team seemed to like the intense heat and really took advantage of a situation all in their favor.

Delph and Arnold divided the pitching chores for the Chiefs while Cassmeyer was the winning pitcher for Jeff City. The Capitol City team hit for a total of 18 safeties while the Chiefs were held to just seven, with Burton, Fall and Delph getting two each.

On Thursday night, July 15, Brookfield will be here at Liberty Park for an 8 o'clock contest. The Chiefs should be strengthened by the return to the line-up of some of the missing players and Manager Haven has advised he will start Skip Schultz on the mound.

On Sunday night, the first half pennant winners and conquerors of the league All-Stars, the Moberly Miners, will be here for their last visit of the season. This club boasts some of the best hitters and pitchers to be seen in the league for some years. Game time is 8 p.m. Sunday at Liberty Park.

Zernial Scheduled for Release From Hospital

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Slugging outfielder Gus Zernial of the Philadelphia Athletics, who suffered a fractured collarbone in a game against the Boston Red Sox last Sunday, was scheduled for release today from Presbyterian Hospital.

Doctors have indicated he will be lost to the A's for the rest of the season but the slugger said he hopes to join the team the last six weeks of the campaign.

Red Killings Resumed
HONG KONG (AP)—Purge and terror seem to be on the flood again in Communist China. A series of policy statements by the official Peiping Peoples Daily lately on political, legal and police work, call for tightening up against "criminal elements, saboteurs, counter revolutionaries, law breaching industrialists and merchants."

Similar statements preceded the slaughters of 1951-52 and the lesser killings last year. They seem to reflect break-downs in Communist controls, new resistances, wavering loyalties. The news of the purges are pouring in from independent sources, some of which say as many as a hundred are being shot at a time in some cities.

Industrial Loop—DeMolays Win, All-Stars Take Trinity Luth.

The National Guard was forced to forfeit to Trinity Lutheran because of lack of players and the DeMolays defeated Missouri Public Service 6-2 in the Industrial League Tuesday night.

The National Guard - Trinity Lutheran game was replaced by the Lutherans meeting the Mais All-Stars. The Lutherans came up on the short end as the All-Stars, behind the fine pitching of Homan, beat the team, 11-6. O'Neill was the outstanding slugger in the game while Pope of Trinity Lutheran had a homer. The All-Star's runs came in every inning with the exception of the first two. The Lutherans scored in the second, one in the fourth and 3 in the final. Both teams garnered nine hits.

The second game of the night, between DeMolays and Missouri Public Service, saw Tommy Sanders rack up another victory and hurl for his team a 6-2 victory. Benson and Johnson each hit homers for DeMolays. Rucker made an outstanding play as he hauled down a long fly to preserve the DeMolay lead which later proved to be the winning margin.

Priest Dies After Long Cancer Ordeal

PARSONS, Kan. (AP)—The Rev. Julius Busse, 47, a Catholic priest who once said he considered it a privilege to die of cancer, died last night.

His death at Mercy Hospital ended months of suffering from abdominal cancer.

Fr. Busse attracted attention last January when he said death is a thing "to be desired, not feared."

"It is a journey from earth to heaven, and who would say the change is not for the better?" he said.

Fr. Busse is survived by his 80-year-old mother who lives at St. Paul, Kan., four sisters and five brothers.

His disease was discovered in 1952 when he visited Mercy Hospital in preparation for a trip to Osaka, Japan, where he was going to found a Passionist monastery. Subsequently he underwent four operations.

After the last operation, in the fall of 1952, he was told his case was incurable. Last January, his doctors said death was near.

"I consider it a privilege to die of cancer," the priest said at the time, "with cancer you have time to prepare for death."

Alston Wonders About Ump's Decision in 8th

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mild-mannered Walter Alston, the rookie manager who piloted the National League all-stars to their first defeat in five years, wondered today "how much it may have cost us" when Red Schoendienst was out at the plate in an eighth-inning attempt to steal home.

The Nationals scored no more runs after that play and lost to the American Leaguers 11-9.

Alston said he didn't feel "too bad" about losing a game "that could have gone either way," but he couldn't help wondering what the outcome might have been if umpire Bill Stewart had ruled a balk on pitcher Dean Stone instead of waving the red-haired St. Louis Card runner out.

"It would have given us a two-run lead," Alston said. Duke Snider of Alston's own Brooklyn Dodgers was at bat, and "Snider is the kind of a fellow who is likely to knock one out of the place anytime," Alston added.

Umpire Bill Stewart stoutly denied a charge by Leo Durocher that he wasn't watching on Red Schoendienst's attempted steal of home, coaching on third base, called the plate umpire's failure to rule a balk on Washington's Dean Stone "a disgrace."

The only American League pitcher who didn't see action was Baltimore's bullet Bob Turley, whose eye was cut when he ran into the right field fence chasing a pregame fly. Blood streamed from the eye of the Orioles' speedy righthander, and it took three stitches to close the wound.

Washington's Dean Stone, a rookie southpaw who won only eight and lost 10 for Chattanooga last season, was the winning pitcher although he hurled only three balls and didn't retire a batter. And it was only because of injuries that Stone made the mound staff at all. Gene Conley pitched only one-third of an inning and was charged with the Nationals loss for his first all-star game.

Bob Thomas in Hollywood—
He Appreciates Jean Simmons
In Gold Napoleonic Gown

By HUBBARD KEAVY
(For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD is the way to cover Hollywood is to be puffed like a tourist. Now you take this set where Jean Simmons is playing Desiree in a picture of the same name.

She was looking very comely in this Napoleonic piece, wearing a gold cloth dress with a high waist and a low neckline. I could appreciate what I was seeing because I am a fashion editor. Unfortunately, that job didn't last long but I do know gold cloth when I see it. We did not have a chance to discuss our mutual interest in gold cloth because Jean was long engaged in a difficult scene.

I turned my attention, reluctantly, to Henry Koster, the director, who wanted everyone in the scene to be very quiet. This is how he got the effect.

"All of you, now, pretend to be talking about the wonderful dinner Napoleon has just served. Ah, think of the caviar and the champagne. And the oysters. But if it will make you any happier, you may imagine you have been eating hot dogs."

This thought seemed to make Miss Simmons quite gay, and she smiled prettily at Napoleon, who is none other than Marion Brando. Brando then was excused so the crew could concentrate on a close-up of Miss Simmons. And because there was so much crew and so much equipment, I lost sight of my friend in the gold cloth with the low waist and the high neck. Or whatever she had on.

With a wisp of hair down over his forehead and a nose made pointed with putty, Brando becomes an excellent likeness of Napoleon. Brando likes to shock reporters so they will write shocking things about him. I am not easily shocked, having been around too
